Contact: Greg Shaw

Workplace Ergonomic Evaluations Offered:

The Labor Coalition's new staff ergonomist, Greg Shaw is available to perform no-cost on-site ergonomic analyses to help workers identify potentially harmful work environments or work practices. If workers have concerns about their work environments or pain or discomfort they experience as a result of performing their job they should call for a free consultation. The service is open to all occupations and anyone concerned about their health should feel free to call. Contact Greg Shaw at the Labor Coalition in Ithaca at (607) 277-5670.

The Labor Coalition's health and safety training and education program is in it's ninth year of operation with primary funding from the New York State Department of Labor.

Greg Shaw is a professional ergonomist with a Master's degree from the Department of Design and Environmental Analysis at Cornell University. Before joining the Labor Coalition he worked as an ergonomic consultant in the Ithaca area.
